Padana shower trays are made from innovative gelcoat material, which is easy to clean and maintain and thanks to their special qualities they should not escape your attention. Limestone, the main product component, in combination with resins forms a very unique material. Combined with their minimalist design, Padana shower trays become a highlight of any bathroom. Spacious rectangular Padana shower tray 1200 x 800 mm is made of cast marble with slate texture and is offered including a stainless steel square outlet grid. We recommend combining it with the Laufen H2951270000001 outlet grid. The shower trays are manufactured in the UK and we provide a 3-year warranty on them.
